- Get your kicks on the Route 66 -

Destination airport: Chicago

1. day) Arrive in Chicago, use the free shuttle bus to the hotel (we will provide you with detailed information when booking). Enjoy the hotel amenities (time to recover from jetleg or for a drink). The rest of the day can be used as freetime.day) Chicago city tour..

2. Day) Chicago city tour. Seize the day and visit Chicago's Columbus Ave, Adam Street, Lake Michigan and the famous Sears Tower. The motorbikes are ready to go at the hotel, but we use the public transport or take a taxi, because we can't find any parking spaces for the bikes here..

3. Day) Chicago - Lincoln (305 km)
Today it really starts: we leave the city and drive past many farms and typical American houses on rural roads. The first gas stations on Route 66 appear and in Mc Lean we see the first large grain elevators..

4. day) Lincoln - St. Louis (225 km)
We drive past Mount Olive (old mines) and visit a classic roadhouse. We continue to the Mississippi and to St. Louis where we have time to look around the city.

5. day) St. Louis - Lebanon (320 km)
A bit on the interstate, then you will see Jesse James' hiding place "Meramec Caverns", further via Rolla to Lebanon.

6. day) Lebanon - Miami (265 km)
Via Springfield and Joplin to Miami. Through the state of Kansas to Oklahoma where the typical Route 66 displays can be seen.

7. day) Miami - Oklahoma City (350 km)
We visit Tulsa, the second largest city in Oklahoma. Home to 860 oil companies, it is now the oil capital of the USA. Tulsa is also known for its bridges. Nowhere is Route 66 more iconic than in Oklahoma, where the road blends into the landscape as if it were a part of it. Through hilly country we continue to Oklahoma City.

8. Tag) Oklahoma City - Amarillo (415 km)
On this day you drive through the former hunting grounds of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Indians, parallel to Highway 40.

9. day) Amarillo - Santa Fe (415 km)
Today we visit the Cadillac Ranch, where the automobiles of the same name were given a surprising, colorful use. We then reach the state of New Mexico and Santa Fe with its houses built in adobe style. There are many art galleries here, ranging from the very tasteful to the less tasteful.

10. day) Santa Fe - Gallup (350 km)
We stock up on plenty of water for the trip, as we're entering the New Mexico desert via Albuquerque. We stay overnight in Gallup, also known as the Indian Capital of the World. Many descendants of the Hopi, Zuni and Navajo Indians live here.

11. day) Gallup - Flagstaff (335 km)
We reach the territory of the Navajo Indianer, visit the Petrified Forest. The forest owes its name to the many petrified trees and fossils and is as real as you imagine a desert to be. This Flagstaff hotel is just off Old Route 66.

12. day) Flagstaff (free day)
We have a day off, ideal to enjoy the Grand Canyon. A drive of about two hours takes you to the South Rim, where you can immortalize yourself with the mile-wide canyon. You can even see it from the moon. We recommend an exciting helicopter flight and the performance in the IMAX theatre.

13. day) Flagstaff - Kingman (255 km)
We drive to cozy Williams for coffee. Then continue along Historic 66. If you want, you can get a shave in Seligman in the famous 'Angels' Barbershop. Ladies: you should ask whether they also shave their legs there.

14. day) Kingman - Las Vegas (240 km)
Via Ed's Camp and Oatman we reach the state of Nevada. If you want, you can spend the night in the entertainment city of Las Vegas.

15. day) Las Vegas - Barstow (255 km)
Because of the heat of the day we leave early. On the way we visit a ghost town and we spend the night on Route 66 again.

16. day) Barstow - Santa Monica (265 km)
We conclude "Get your kicks on Route 66" with a magnificent motorcycle tour through the mountains of California until we reach the Pacific Ocean.

17. day) Los Angeles
The day is at leisure. We enjoy the City of Angels' range of sights and activities such as Universal Studios, Hollywood or just lazing on Venice Beach.

18. day) Today it's time to say goodbye to our newfound friends. Transfer to the airport or start of your connecting stay.

19. day) Arrival at home
